Who are we?

We are Samantha and Leanne the Macmillan Gynae-Oncology Clinical Nurse Specialists based at Darent Valley Hospital. We are here to support you and those close to you throughout your illness and treatment. This leaflet will give you an idea of the different ways in which we may be able to help you, both now and in the future and provides details on how to contact us.

We will act as your Key Worker initially putting you in touch with different services, both in the hospital and when you are at home. Your Key Worker may change depending on your needs but this would be discussed with you.

If you need advice or information

We here to answer any questions you may have about your illness, or the tests you may need, and to discuss your treatment options with you. We will explain your treatment plan and what it will involve to ensure that you really understand what is happening at each stage. We can provide you with information and the details of different kinds of help available to you at each step of the way.

If you need a link between people

There will be a number of different people involved in your care and we can help by being a

'link person' improving communication between them so that things run as smoothly as possible. We can explain their different roles, and if you would like us to speak to any of them on your behalf we are happy to do so. There may be times during your treatment when you will need to be admitted to Darent Valley or maybe Maidstone Hospital. We will liaise closely with staff in all the hospitals to ensure continuity of care and will continue to support you wherever you are being treated.

If you need help managing your symptoms

At times your disease or the treatment may cause symptoms which are difficult to cope with. Part of our role is to assist you in managing these so that they have less impact on your daily life, allowing you to live as normal a life as possible. We can help to ensure that you are on the best medications for your needs and we can discuss practical interventions also make referrals as needed.

When you are at home

It is often after you have left the hospital that you think of things you should have asked or you may need further explanations. If you are concerned or are unwell at home please feel free to contact us during working hours. We will be able to offer advice or, if need be, arrange to see you.

If your family needs support

The people who love and care for you may need support with their feelings about your illness or information on how best to help you. Please make sure they see this leaflet and encourage them to get in touch, but let us know we have your permission.

Who else can help?

We can put you in touch with people who can advise you about financial concerns or benefit advice or any of the things that worry you on a day to day basis.

All cancer patients are entitled to free prescriptions. Ask your GP for an FP92A form to claim. We advise you to keep your GP up to date with your situation so they can support you at home. If you are having difficulties coping at home with looking after yourself contacting your GP or District Nursing Service may help you, as well as, Social Services for increased care. If your condition and needs are appropriate we can refer you to palliative care. Palliative care helps patients with advanced progressive illness (helping manage pain, other symptoms, emotional, social and spiritual support and end of life care), to aim for the best quality of life for patients and their families. There are also a number of other charitable organisations available, to offer you support and advice, and these are listed on the reverse of this leaflet.
